Dr. Devaiah announces free loans to the IITians of SWRE Society

He does not believe in an invisible God. He believes in that God who lives in the hearts of human beings. He has no faith for Almighty. But he shows his faith in those who serve the humans. Surprisingly his very name bears the reference of divinity. He may not believe in god but he works himself like a God. Who do you think he is? His name is Dr. Pagidipati Devaiah. Yes, true to his name Devaiah himself is a God for the downtrodden. He is a hero (Swaero) of pre-independent era. He hails from Jangaon, in Warangal district. He believes in service to man rather than service to God. Otherwise how could he have developed an affectionate bond with the APSWREIS and its wards and help them like a God.

Read the story of his life and try if you can get any inspiration. (contd. on page 4)

A Man Divine

- A man who regards his masters as his Gods
- A man who turned into an institution
- A doctor who knows the pulse of the poor and the marginalized.
- He leaves luxuries to let the poor live in luxury.

Dr. Devaiah says,

"My head master became my role model for my future life."

"Though rolling in luxuries and prosperity, my heart always ached for the service of the poor and the oppressed."

"Is there any way to pay back to the society is what I always asked myself."

"Your attitude is your altitude." ”

When India was passing through a critical phase of freedom struggle in 1940s, a poor man was also battling against poverty for the survival of his wife and 11 children. The poor man was Late Sri Pagidipati Rathnam of Qilashapur, a village near Jangaon. Even though he was leading a miserable life, he was not without dreams for his children. He did not want his children to work in agricultural fields. As a man of forethought, he sent all his children to school.

The youngest of the 11 kids is Mr. Devaiah. He always stood first in class. He gained a great reputation when he stood one among the top ten students in HSC examination in the Telangana region. Unable to manage a living, his father admitted Devaiah in a Social Welfare Hostel. He was 9 years old. The hostel was lacking the basic amenities. The inmates sometimes went without food due to inadequate supply of food items. This usually had an adverse effect on the studies of the inmates. But Devaiah felt undeterred, worked hard and continued to excel in studies. He had to bear with all the hardships until he finished his M.B.B.S from the prestigious Osmania Medical College, Hyderabad in 1971. Those years were significant in the life of Dr. Devaiah which paved way for a broad outlook in life. He learnt a lot from the living conditions of his friends, fellow students and the community people.

He remembers his high school headmaster, Sri Subbarao garu, who made an indelible impression on his mind. The headmaster would request the teachers to support the poor and the needy students. Inspired by his message the teachers started extra instructional hours after school. "This head master became my role-model for my future life. It is he who advised me to go for medicine. I took his advice as his commandment," says Dr. Devaiah.

After attaining his degree in Medicine, Dr. Devaiah had two alternatives: to pursue higher education or to support his family with some job. He decided to take on the responsibility of bread winner and it was a must for him too. The Prestigious Kakatiya Medical College offered him a job in 1971 and he readily accepted it only to meet the basic needs of the life. His life took a dramatic turn when he tied the sacred knot to one Rudrama Devi in 1973. It was an ideal social marriage. The couple was a perfect model. As an academician, Dr. Devaiah tapped the inherent potentials of his wife and encouraged her to pursue the higher studies. She was equally determined to go for medical profession, an astonishing thing to think of in those days from womenfolk.

This fantastic couple was blessed with three children who were mainly brought up by Rudrama Devi's parents. He went to pursue his Post Graduation in America first and then for a training in Anesthesiology at Harvard Medical School's Children Hospital, Boston. After gaining an adequate experience and expertise in the field of medicine, Dr. Devaiah started teaching at the University of Tennessee in Le Bonheur Children's hospital. During this time, his wife finished her training in Pathology from Baptist Memorial hospital in 1991. Having worked for a certain period, Dr. Devaiah, was fed up with hectic medical practice, took retirement in 1994 and conveniently moved to Florida (USA).

Thereafter the couple established 'Sun Coast Laboratory' in Florida employing over 100 people. He launched an offshore BPO operation called 'Anion Health Care' in Hyderabad with 200 employees. The success in these projects prompted him further to start a health insurance company called 'Freedom Health' in Florida along with his children. Within five years of time, Freedom Health has expanded employing some 250 employees and bagged the prestigious awards. This great accomplishment drew the attention of the health insurance experts. Dr. Rudrama Devi started 'Sun Coast Lab' in Florida also in 1995 which goes for blood, urine and other such pathology tests.

Though rolling in luxuries and prosperity, Dr. Devaiah's heart ached for the service to the poor and the oppressed. The very thought of serving the poor filled his heart. Never forgetting his humble origins and helping hands, he launched 'NAADAM' (National Association for Advancement of Dalits, Adivasis & Minorities), a non-profit organization in 1979 which aims at large to uplift and upgrade the Dalits in Education, Employment and Economic equality.

He says, "Is there any way to pay back to the society is what I always asked myself. If a country is to be developed in all fronts, all the communities should be developed. When 'my people' are in the crushing poverty, my choice was automatic and spontaneous."

NAADAM supports weaker section students to pursue their higher education goals in the country's premier professional colleges like IIT, NIT and IIIT. "In pursuit of our dreams, we never forgot the typical Dalit women who still need empowerment and education. We also extended our hands for the rural social infrastructure development, especially keeping in view of the girl children. I have not missed my hometown in these service activities."

His wife also loves her profession considering it as one of the noblest professions. Even at this age she spends a few hours managing the service activities of our organizations in India. Dr. Devaiah humbly confesses that his wife, his in-laws, his children, his well-wishers and above all his godfather Subba Rao garu were all part of his success story.

He says that he came into contact with the APSWREIS through Sri. K. Madhava Rao, IAS and enquired him of the AP Government's projects and policies to serve the socially underprivileged sections of the society and got a comprehensive list of the services rendered by the Social Welfare Department to the Dalits and the ST's. Kaki Madhava Rao had also mentioned about Dr.R.S Praveen Kumar, IPS and his marvelous dedication for the underprivileged through social welfare residential schools.

Dr. Devaiah says, "At first I was surprised to see an IPS officer serving in the field of education. But it was a sheer coincidence that Dr. R.S. Praveen Kumar invited me and my wife to grace the celebrations of the 25th anniversary of the APSWRS at Chillakur in Nellore district. Obviously, I did not want to miss this opportunity to see a devoted person to uplift Dalits through the APSWREIS. We graced the occasion and felt very excited. Later on I spared my time to see the activities of a few APSWR Schools and concluded that these schools render maximum scope for the all-round development of the oppressed classes when compared to the general SC, ST and BC hostels."

Talking about the Secretary's ideology and dedication, he says, "Dr. R.S Praveen Kumar is unique. I understand that he is trying his best to build up self confidence levels and boost the morale of these students. I have never come across any bureaucrat who is as honest and committed as Dr.R.S.Praveen Kumar. Kudos to his divine endeavors!

Passing a valuable message to Swaeroes he says, "Always think big and aim high. A weak desire cannot produce great results. Dream a bright future but you should toil yourself day and night to make that dream come true. Only hard work can make your life a bed of roses. Don't forget that your attitude is your altitude. May success go in all walks of your life. Good luck to you all."

Well, that is the spirit of Dr. Devaiah.

Now, after going through the life story of Dr. Devaiah, don't you recall the poem "ABOU BEN ADHEM" in which the poet says "May his tribe increase!"

Good Manners

V. Sravani
VIII class, APSWRS /Jr.College,

Every one must be good mannered. It is important to make our run smooth. We are living in a Society among many people. There are people having different mentalities. If we have good manners, we can make the Society good. If we are bad mannered, the Society also becomes bad.

Good manners separate a gentleman from an ordinary man. In order to maintain good relations with the Society, we must be good mannered. Even from the early age, good manners are to be learnt and cultivated. Parent, teachers. Good manners means acceptable behavior with others. We must be polite in our ways and dignified at the same time.

When someone helps us, we should say "thanks" to him. We shouldn't interfere in other people's matters. We must say "please" and "thank you" to every one. This acts as an oil which keeps the society run smoothly. We should not interfere. When two people are talking we should not interfere. When entering a room we should say, "May I come in please". We can make the society better by being good mannered.

Parents Speak

The campus of APSWRS, Isnapur looked lively again after few days of silence. Another parent, Mrs. Neeridi Jayamma, the mother of Srividya who has been promoted this year too appeared sitting on the staircase, looking into the vacuum. She seemed to be relaxing after a travel in the hot sun. On enquiry as to why she looked pale, she said that it's because she had to travel from Giridipalli village, her native place to see her daughter who joined the 'Voice for Girls' camp at Isnapur. Her husband, Mr. Srinivas is a bus driver of a private school. Her second daughter too studies in this school. Just questions were posed to her thus:

Srividya with her parents @ voice 4 girls

What do you think your daughter is doing here during the summer vacation?

My daughters have been studying here for a few years. They say that she has to attend some sort of camp here. I don't know what it is. But I know that it's something useful for them as I see several girls and teachers here. I will now go back home and return to pick my daughter on 4th June

What are your impressions about this school?

Very fine. My daughters are learning English. It gives us happiness to see them in neat uniform. They look refined in every aspect. They are able to take personal care. They look different. They don't look like village girls anymore. It's the education that transforms them, I feel. And I don't need to spend a penny on them as the government is taking care of them. My children speak high of their Secretary. I want to see him and thank him for all his goodness.

V4G @ Isnapur, Medak dist.

Srivani has been promoted to 9th class. She has been studying in APSWRS, Medchal right from her 6th class. She finds an opportunity to join 'Voice 4 Girls' camp at Isnapur, Medak dist. This camp is scheduled to run from 19th May to 4th June. Her parents Mrs. Renuka and Mr. Meda Sanjeeva take her to admit her in the camp. Both the parents chat with 'Swaeroes' and exchange a few views.

Srivani with her parents @ voice 4 girls

Where do you come from?

We are from Sainagar hamlet near Bachupalli village in RR dist. I'm Sanjeev, a social worker. I'm also a spokesman of MRPS.

Why are you both here?

My daughter says that she has to attend this camp for 15 days. So we have brought her here. We also want to know what exactly this camp is about.

What has your daughter told you about it Renukagaru?

Sir, I'm illiterate. I work as a cook in a hostel. My daughter said that it's something useful for girls. My son, Pavan also studies in SWRS, Shaikpet. He too explained to me about it.

What else did your son speak to you about our activities this year?

He said a lot. He spoke about many competitions. He got a prize for winning chess game.

How do you feel hearing that?

Oh, then I guessed that it's some program to enlighten the girls over their personal problems.

Exactly. You're intelligent. Is it worth alerting them over their personal problems?

Of course, it is. It's wonderful. I'm surprised that such care is taken. They take it seriously when teachers deal. The children take us light and easy, and sometimes don't pay attention to what we say. I'm really astonished at the very idea of it.

Hi Srivani, do you like to really attend this V 4 G camp or has someone enforced it over you?

None. I am interested in attending it myself. My parents too are interested in bringing me here. I've explained to my parents how useful it is. I've brought them here so that they know exactly what it is. I want them to know that we are learning something new and useful even during summer vacation.

So, you've heard what your daughter says Mr. Sanjeevgaru. What's your opinion about it?

It's a brilliant idea. I first was doubtful about it. But when I see so many students and teachers, I think there's something worth going here. Or else, Praveen sir will not encourage such camps. I know him personally very well. He's truly interested in the growth of the children. Now I understand what V 4 G camp is about. It's a need for girls.

What language do your children speak at home?

They normally converse in Telugu. But they also speak English. I feel proud when they speak English. My son wrote an English poem for 'Swaeroes' magazine. I saw it there with his photo. I'm really proud! He got 412 marks in first year MPC. I'm sure he has a fine future.

What else would you like to share, Sanjeevgaru?

Having such a Secretary is blessing for this generation. He should continue. He's in the right place I believe.

Q U E S T

Quest is an inquest aiming at intensifying the relation between the student, the parent and the head of the institution. It helps to apprise the illiterate parents with regard to the progress of their children in all aspects. The administration can understand the social, economic and educational status of the parents too by being close to them. It enlightens the parents about the various reforms taken up for the development of their children from time to time. It is also to make the parents understand their responsibilities and to involve them in raising their own children.

Listen to the voices of principals...

Sri. G. Narsimha, Principal, Husnabad, Karimnagar

On visiting the parents, I felt as though I was going to my own house. My childhood memories came to my mind. Initially the parents were scared at the principal visiting them. They thought that their son might have done some mischief. Knowing about the Quest programme, they felt happy and thanked the Secretary. Quest works out well for bringing the drop-outs too.

Smt. Y. Yashoda Laxmi, Principal, Mandasa, Srikakulam

This is for the first time I visited the house of a parent. It was a great experience. I was shocked to see the poor living conditions of the parents. I thought I should do something for them.

Smt. Deva jyothis, Principal, Adavimallela, Khammam

It is a nice opportunity. In fact, when I went into the hut, I was moved by their poverty and touched by their warmth. Working as a tailor, father manages their livelihood. Yet, the parents want their children to be well educated.

S. Rupavathi, Principal, Meghadrigadda, Visakhapatnam

Going to the parent was altogether a different experience. I felt happy on their warmth reception. They were also very happy to see me visiting their house. When I saw their poor condition, I was much more determined to work hard for them.

Smt. M. Manikyam, Principal, Garugubilli, Vizayanagaram

I went to the parents of our ward living in Mulasala village. The father of the child is not alive. Mother and children live in pakka house located on the outskirts of the city. She says she has to work very hard to eke out livelihood. Mother is very innocent and therefore, the children need to be dealt with special care.

Smt. B. Rani, Principal, Dwaraka Tirumala, West Godavari

When I went to Thimmapuram, the father and the granny of the ward were there. They live in poor set up and the hut is too small to live in. I felt sorry for their condition.

SRUJANA CELEBRATIONS

S.R.Shankaran Super Student Trophy is the most innovative programme that helped explore the wide-ranging skills from the students of APSWREI Society. It is an idea conceived by the Secretary who always comes out with inventive ideas. This present project titled 'Earn while you learn' has become so popular that the demand for teaching on MANA TV from our students has enormously increased. Earlier, it was the teachers who taught on Mana TV.

The studies made on astronomy by S. Chandrashekar aroused my interest in physical science. I was also inspired by a great cosmologist, Stephen Hawking's writings. So I decided to become a great astronomer.

Teacher: Mr. S.Sreekanth, TGT (Phy. Sc): I am very happy and proud of Azad who is a Runner Up in S R. Sankaran Trophy. I am also proud to say that he is not my student but I am his teacher. It is a team work. I am thankful to the members of my team.

Principal: Mr. Md. Mazharuddin: I congratulate the student and also his trainers. I am also happy that the city based Vandematharam Foundation is coming forward to felicitate Azad with a Medal and a Memento.

Mr. P.S.R.Sharma, Coordinator, MANA TV, APSWREIS, Hyderabad. "SR Sankaran Super Students' Lecture Programme" of APSWREIS is unique in every respect. This is designed to be conducted as a live programme on MANA TV. Normally students get an opportunity to teach on the occasion of 'TEACHERS DAY' only at institution level. But, here the students selected through School, District and Zonal level have to perform directly on live programmes on MANA TV which are telecast directly to all government educational institutions in the state. They all performed professionally like the most experienced teachers. They surprised everyone who watched the live telecast. I wish this programme be continued in future too. I am very grateful to our Secretary for giving me this opportunity to be a coordinator for such an academically useful programme.

FACE TO FACE C̄ Z.O - II

He started his life as a post graduate teacher in Telugu in one of the schools in the second zone and rose up to be a competent Zonal Officer offering the best possible services to the students and the teachers. He maintains a good coordination between the principals and the head office officials. Read the feelings of Sri. M.Pullaiah, Zonal Officer-II and know more about what he does for students and teachers.

Principals Conference on 4th June - 2013

Sir, could you disclose details of your family, your schooling and your college education?

I hail from Kappalabandam village of Khammam district. I had a humble background. My parents depended on agriculture for livelihood. And, I had my schooling at Kappalabandam and Intermediate education at Kallur. Later on I went for B.Com graduation in Khammam.

What prompted you to join the Society? In what cadre did you enter the Society?

While I was doing M.Phil in Telugu at Osmania University, I got a posting order from the APSWREI Society appointing me as a P.G.T in Telugu. I left my M.Phil and joined as a PGT in the Society. It has been my fascination to serve the underprivileged ever since I was a student leader at the university. As a first generation learner, I have a better idea of the problems of first generation learner and joined the Society as P.G.T (Tel) on March 18th, 1986 at Kallur.

How long have you been working as a Zonal Officer? Do you regard this as a challenging job?

First, I had worked from 2010 August to 2011 February as an acting Officer (in charge) of Zone-II. Later I was appointed a Zonal Officer on January 21st 2013. Since then, I have been discharging my duties with undivided attention. As an administrator, I am tough, democratic and attentive to the needs of the teachers. If the present Secretary had come to the society earlier, much better benefits would have been reaped. I am thankful to him and feel it a privilege to work with him and implement his ideas and vision. The Society in fact owes a great to his services.

Could you share any of your eventful incidents with the students?

Once, I had an opportunity to visit Kuntamukkala Girls institution along with our Secretary. There, we observed Ms. Divya of Senior Intermediate address the students with her brilliant English. Similarly, there was another girl named Ms. Krishnaveni in Sr. Intermediate who civilized pupils to realize their responsibilities. Such talented students need to be tapped at the right time. Our secretary is putting relentless efforts to draw them out.

What efforts are made to enhance the English Language skills in children?

Introducing English medium in the society is a landmark decision. English is a skill subject and shouldn't be taught as a mere subject. To improve communication skills in English, E-plus club activities are implemented right from 5th standard. Speaking in English in the classroom should be made compulsory. Teachers should also develop their communication skills. Even the failures in science subjects are due to the lack of Basic English skills in students.

How can we cope with the systematic reforms taken up for the all-round development of the students?

Activity based teaching, child-centered education need patience and efforts on the part of teachers and students as well. Our pupils are mostly first generation learners and some schools run short of computers. The data teaching aids play an important role in making pupils understand the concepts better. Our teacher and students should prove that they are inferior to none in making use of e-materials. In due course, I am hopeful that we can cope well with these changes in education and teaching.

Would you like to talk about some of achievements you accomplished as a teacher or as a principal or as an officer?

The institutions where I had worked earlier had been deprived of basic amenities like drinking water, greenery and pakka buildings. As a committed principal, I converted these institutions into sound institutions. As an officer too, I constantly monitored the institutions and solved the problems.

As a principal I have personally monitored the day study hours and night study hours and allotted my time for the benefit of students. In that process, my family welfare has been ignored. But I feel proud that my students are in good positions now and give the credit to my sacrifice.

How can good administration help the teachers?

Administration is basically fact finding and not fault finding. The talents of the teachers are to be identified by the officers. If proper supervision and motivation is there, the administration becomes easy. Strategic plans, lesson plans etc. are for the readiness of teachers. They should not feel the planning as a burden.

Mr. Pullaiah helps Chandrika who writes Swaerocet with her leg

Parents First Programme at Eluru

What measures do you suggest to improve the quality in education?

Teachers should act as facilitators. Because of the socio-economic barriers, our students need maximum support from the teachers. Creative thinking, reasoning, problem solving abilities and group discussion should be made part and parcel of the curriculum. Teachers can also make use of the reliable resources on the internet. Many teachers have no acquaintance with the latest academic techniques.

Do you think the present evaluation system is reliable?

I think the present system of Continuous Comprehensive Evaluation (CCE) reduces the fear complex. It is the best alternative to prevent students from attempting suicides. Though a pupil is not good at academics, he/she can show his talent in his chosen ways of learning. Getting marks in the examinations is not the criteria. But, the teacher has to identify the areas of backwardness, strengths and guides them in a right direction.

IGNITE, Art clubs, voice for Boys and Girls increase their ability to take-up new challenges. The amazing story of our mountaineers, Poorna and Anand, is an example of infinite potential in the present day young pupils. I express my hearty congratulations to my SWAEROES. Thank you.

TWO BODIES ... ONE SOUL

Husnabad, Karimnagar dist. (Zone - V)

Madanapalli, Chittoor dist (Zone - IV)

The bifurcation of the state brings a split in the erstwhile APSWREI Society too. Sometimes painful decisions occur for right reasons. The administration too has to bow before such decisions. This separation should worry neither the parents nor the teachers. Let's be optimistic about it and expect effective governance for progress. The Social Welfare Residential Education Society's sole crusade is providing quality education to the underprivileged rural poor children.

Our commitment, dedication and hard work speak of our purpose. Wherever we are, whatever we do, we shall remain as Swaeroes of one family. Let's exhibit to the world that we belong to one Telugu family by organizing combined activities.

We are in the field of education. Having been under the navigation of a single Society for 30 years, we are emotionally and fraternally connected to one another. The division of the six zones never affected us in the past, and so this partition too will not disturb us in sharing our ideas and responsibilities.

"Where the mind is led forward into ever widening thought and action" (Rabindranath Tagore), the feeling of separation will vanish.

The Social Welfare Residential Education Society may have two administrative bodies, but one soul (education), one spirit (Code of Conduct), and one aim (Go Swaeroes, Go Cosmos, Go Heroes).

THE POWER OF I IN ENGLISH LANGUAGE

DR.A.Bhaskar Rao, Principal,
APSWRS&Jr.College (B),
Jupadu Bungalow,Kurnool (Dt).

The people in the world badly need to communicate and for communication one language or other is usually required. Though there are other forms of communication, language plays an important role in effective communication. In fact language is the powerful tool with which communication is done. There are thousands of languages in the world. But English has become very popular because it is the simplest and easiest among all. Now, Life of a modern man cannot be imagined without English. It has literally become global, trespassing into all the cultures. English has only 26 letters and each letter has its own sound and meaning with combination of other letters to form different words.

Within these words, "I" appears to be lonely but it is not. In fact it has all the strength that makes it stand proudly.

'I' always feel why the life is so hard? ask myself, what is holding me back?

Why must not be 'I' the one to do something different to get success in my life?

'I' would not like to call myself a coward. 'I' am not a timid.

'I' always come first in everything.

'I' deserve to win, because 'I' am the best in every task.

'I' stand by myself proudly for my success in the life.

'I' am and I do it. 'I' is the power within me. 'I' declare the source of my will.

'I' has wonderful power within. I have to bring it out.

I DO IT.
I CAN DO IT.
I WILL DO IT MYSELF.
I HAVE DONE IT.
I DID IT.

'I' may be a single letter or a word, but, - 'I' is "WHOLE" of you'.

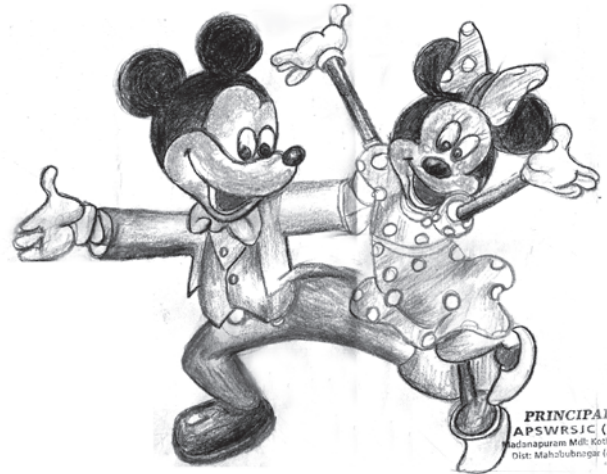

It depends not on 'you', but on 'I'. I feel proud to be "I" among all.

THANK YOU ALL

We are proud to say that we have successfully brought out 12 issues of the 'SWAEROES' magazine, with the overwhelming contributions from the teachers, the students and the alumni. We have tried our best to produce wide variety of contents, highlighting the achievements of the Swaeroes, present and past. We regret if we kept troubling you sometimes for photographs, images and other requirements to fill the gaps.

SWAEROES magazine has always enjoyed the strong support of the AP Government, the Ministry of Social Welfare, the visitors, friends, and the Society officials. It has received lot of appreciation and compliments from learned personalities.

The brainchild of this magazine, of course, is Dr. R.S. Praveen Kumar, the Secretary, APSWREIS. It is his determination and brilliant ideas that made it possible. We are highly grateful to him for his constant inspiration and encouragement.

The Editorial members of 'SWAEROES' offer boundless thanks to all those who have contributed for the journal with enthusiasm. We shall continue to endeavour in generating quality material with your contributions and suggestions in future too.

• Editorial Board, SWAEROES.

- Sri. J. Raymond Peter, IAS
(former Vice-Chairman, APSWREIS)

Sri. S. S. Rawat, IAS
(Vice-Chairman, APSWREIS)

"I take delight in the SWAEROES in-house journal. I read it regularly and understand the numerous activities organized by the teachers and the active participation of the students at all levels. I'm surprised that the Editorial team is releasing the twelfth issue. My hearty congratulations. Continue the task and enlighten the world. Other organizations should emulate our innovative function and style".

"Producing SWAEROES Journal every month isn't a simple task. I've read the 10th and 11th issues. The title as well as the layout is admirable, and the illustrations charming. The content is really inspiring. It leaves a favourable impression on the readers. I'm pleased to see it as a magazine of the rural, poor students. Go ahead my children and participate in all activities. You are doing excellent work."

Secretary Speaks...

Dear Swaeroes,

I am extremely delighted to bring out the 12th issue successfully. We have been making a lot of improvements till this issue. We have covered the inspiring stories of alumni to stimulate you all from time to time. Your active participation in each and every programme is highlighted with impressive photographs. We hope to bring many more exciting stories in the days to come.

The next important thing I would like to talk is about the letters you write. In fact, I am quite inspired by your overwhelming response. I read all the letters to know your feelings in a better way. Though I wanted to respond personally, I could not do it owing to my hectic schedule. Thus I chose to address you all through this common letter.

The grand success of 'Super Students' pleases me. The students facing the camera confidently, handling the subject like the experienced teachers still amazes me. It is very innovative and first of its kind ever experimented in the field of education. I appreciate your efforts in this regard.

The summer camps are designed not only to enlighten you but also entertain and engage you differently. While studies help us to improve our intelligent quotient these summer camps enhance our emotional quotient. They also aimed at teaching you the basic aspects of games and sports, science and technology, mathematics and logics etc. in the most amusing way.

Go Swaeroes ... Go Cosmos ... Go Heroes
