Swaeroes on March-past

Swaeroes display Bharateeyam

Super show by Swaeroes

The 67th Independence Day celebrations at the Parade Grounds have been magnified with dazzling performance by the students of Social Welfare Residential Education Society both in 'Parade, and Bharateeyam'.

Sixty six Swaeroes have displayed an extraordinary 'march-past' and won the 'Best Unarmed Contingent trophy'. These 66 students represent every district of the state, lead by Master K. Srihari of Ibrahimpatnam junior college. Mr. S.K. Mannan, the Sports Officer, and Mr. P.S. Prasad are the mentors that have taken pains in training the students and proved their mettle.

Again, 500 girls and 100 boys of APSWREIS showcased a dance on "World Peace" in colorful costume synchronizing to the tune and text, which remained as the cynosure of the day, despite the downpour. The main theme is to inculcate the spirit of 'peace and harmony' among the younger generations.

Social Welfare students contribute their mite every year in these celebrations and prove to the world their worth.

As though it isn't adequate, Dr. R. S. Praveen Kumar IPS, the Secretary of the Social Welfare Residential Education Society has been honoured with 'Indian Police Medal' by the Chief Minister at the Parade Grounds on the occasion of the Independence Day.

It's special

SWR Jr. College, Nagole claims that they have brilliant students. It provides excellent coaching for IIT-JEE/NEET/EAMCET. The college has been transporting its students to leading colleges. The Swaeroes are eager to know all about it. Listen to its principal, then.

Mr. Lakshmaiah
Principal

A.P.S.W.R.S / Jr. College
Gowlidoddi, Ranga Reddy Dist.

Good afternoon sir. This is Jacqueline. I wish to have an interview with you.

Good afternoon madam. Most welcome. I'm Mr. Lakshmaiah, Principal, A.P.S.W.R. Junior College, which provides IIT-JEE/ NEET/ EAMCET long term coaching for Social Welfare Residential students, at Gowlidoddi, Ranga Reddy dist.

When was this college established?

In 1998 by Mr. D.R.Garg, I.A.S. the former Secretary of A.P.S.W.R.E.I.S, under the guidance of Sri Chukka Ramaiah, IIT-JEE coaching advisor.

What are the courses available in our college and the Medium of Instruction?

MPC and BPC through English medium.

How many seats are available and how many sections are there?

There are 8 sections, and 40 students in each section. Jr. MPC (2), Sr. MPC (2), Jr. BPC (2), Sr. BPC (2). One section for boys and one section for girls. This is a co-education college. There 8 sections in all. 4 for boys and 4 for girls. We admit 40 students per section.

What is the admission process?

During the month of January, APSWREIS gives a notification for conducting ENTRANCE TEST for admissions into our college. Tenth class students are eligible to write this entrance test, which normally is held in the month of March and the results are declared in the month of April.

Who are eligible for this entrance test?

Students belonging to SC, ST, BC and OC of APSWREIS, and other students who belong to SC- category of other schools who score above 60% in their half-yearly examinations held by their respective schools are eligible.

You said that the institution was started in 1998, May I know how many of them got settled and how many of them are pursuing higher studies?

As far as I know, 45 of them completed their studies and are settled abroad & in India. Right now 87 of them are in different IIT's; 115 students are in NIT's; and more than 300 students have joined in Premier Engineering colleges in A.P.

I think this is an incredible journey, leading the students into a world of their dreams.

This is a collective effort and team work of the staff, and encouragement given by the officers of APSWREIS. It is an unending endeavor by the principals of different institutions and the teachers who have identified and nurtured the talents of their students. The readiness of parents in co-operating with us paved way to be on par with the upcoming private/corporate colleges.

“I’m proud to be a Girl”

G. Tejaswi

X std., Kuntamukkala, Krishna dist.

Being born as a girl isn't a curse, I realize now. I'm very proud because I'm capable of giving birth to a child

Many young and enthusiastic girls in their teens who study in Social Welfare Residential Schools had the privilege of empowering themselves through a multifaceted training known as “VOICE 4 GIRLS”. All these girls hail from rural poor and underprivileged families. Apart from their regular academic education, they have been provided with this opportunity to feel proud of themselves, being girls. The benefits that the girls had reaped from ‘Voice 4 Girls’ is vivid in the schools.

The very purpose of running this program has yielded bright results. The foresight of the Secretary of the Society “Our girl swaeroes come from the environment where women have no voice. We want them to break all the stereotypes that are thrust upon them and help them gain confidence”, has been fruitful.

Today's girls face lots of challenges each passing day. They are the most vulnerable ones in the world. I wanted to teach these girls on many topics which would empower them and also give them a vision about what life is and on how to face obstacles that come their way. I got amazing responses from these lasses. They say, they are more confident about themselves now and also have become stronger, observes the Director of ‘Voice 4 Girls’, American Averil Spencer.

These girls who had taken a fortnight training in ‘Voice 4 Girls’ during the summer vacation are now back in their respective schools, playing leadership roles. They are now capable of organizing different activities by inspiring other girls who didn't undergo this camp. They are able to take care of themselves and their younger sisters too in the schools. In fact they work as mentors in solving the problems of others too. Their personal hygiene, their living standards, their outlook as girls, good manners, behavior, etc. has improved, witness the teachers.

Sri. C. Siddhardhana Reddy, Joint Secretary opines after a few of his visits to the schools, I have noticed certain amount of improvement in the conduct of the children. This perhaps could be the result of ‘Voice 4 Girls’ schedule which was intended to enlighten the young girls in matters pertaining to their future. They seem to display what they had learnt.

Narsaiah's Narration

" Mr. Narsalah is a PGT in APSWREIS. He is a man of self discipline. He did his graduation after having children. He spent days studying with his children. Age is no constraint for education. "

What hard work! What inspiration!

When did you join the APSWREI Society and what position?

I Joined in the APSWREI Society on 13th October, 1990 as TGT S.S at Narsingi ,Ranga Reddy district.

Where all did you work in the SWR Schools?

- i) Narsingi : October 1990 to June 1993 as TGT
- ii) Uppalawai : June 1993 to July 1994 as PGT
- iii) Atchampeta : July 1994 to July 1996
- iiii) Velugonda : July 1996 to June 2002
- iv) Ardhaveddu : July 2002 to June 2006
- v) Uppalapadu : June 2006 to July 2008
- vi) Atchampeta : July 2008 to June 2011
- vii) Darsi : June 2011 to till to date

Narrate about your parentage

Both parents are illiterate. I am the only son.

How many children do you have? What do they study?

I have a daughter studying B.Tech final year and a son Sai Sandeep Reddy has completed

Intermediate and stands state 1st in IIT and EAMCET.

Your Son is the first ranker in IIT, congratulations.

Tell in brief about Sai Sandeep Reddy.

He is an obedient student and works hard to achieve his goal. He does not need any assistance in his studies. He has good memory power.

Sai Sandeep Reddy

Mr. Narasaiah with his family

Where all did he study? (School and College)

He Studied 1st to 5th classes at Montessori Public School, Podili ; 6th class at Geethanjali English Medium School, Vinukonda; 7th to 10th classes at Viswabharathi School, Gudivada, Krishna District; and Intermediate at Sri Chaitanya Narayana IIT Academy, Hyderabad.

How do you feel at the success of your son as the first ranker of IIT?

I was so excited that I remained speechless for some time.

What special role did you play in preparing him?

I always encouraged him and provided him whatever he wanted.

Did you ever expect that he would achieve it?

I was confident that he would be on top.

How did Sandeep work and who is his inspiration?

He worked sincerely with a plan and dedication. The former President Dr. A.P.J Abdul Kalam is his inspiration.

What are your plans for him?

Personally, I always wanted to see him as an IAS Officer but it is left to his choice, my role is only to encourage and give proper suggestions to him at right time.

How do you encourage Swaeroes?

I teach Social studies. I've narrated to the swaeroes my son's success story. I'll one day introduce my son to them. His talk may inspire them. Although my son isn't a swaero, I consider him as one. I'll also ask my son to visit IIT college, Gowlidoddi and give major tips to prepare for JEE.

A calm, simple but intelligent swaero is Cheekati Rakesh Babu. I happened to meet him at the Chief Minister's campus on 2nd July. He seemed wonderful with composure. He is a product of IIT, Nagole who happens to secure 106th rank in the JEE. He aspires to become a collector and raise educational standards. Be inspired by him

Student's interview

Rakesh rocks.....

Tell me something about yourself.

I'm Cheekati Rakesh Babu from Vellaturu village of Guntur dist. My parents are Mr. Chinnappa, an agriculture labourer; and my mother is Ms. Chenchulaxmi, Anganavadi teacher.

Your schooling?

I studied I to V classes in MPP school in Vellaturu itself, and from VI and X in SWRS, Pallapatla, Guntur dist.

Q: How many marks did you get in SSC?

A: 537 through Telugu medium.

Q: What about your Intermediate study?

A: studied through Jr. College, Nagole, Hyd. and got 918 marks.

Q: What's the importance of Nagole college?

A: Now it has been shifted to Gowlidoddi. Run under the management of APSWREI Society which offers free education. It's the only college that provides long-term coaching for IIT, supported by the SW Ministry.

Q: What rank did you get in JEE, and did you expect it?

A: 106th rank. Expected it to be within 500 due to large competition. I'm fully happy for this.

Q: What's the feeling of your parents and your villagers at your success?

A: None know what IIT is and the amount of hard work one has to put in. Now my parents are really proud of me. My villagers now know the significance of education, and are seeking admissions into SW schools and colleges. This awareness will certainly increase once I occupy a special position in life.

Q: What's that special position that you plan to achieve?

A: IAS is my target. It seems impossible. Nevertheless I shall make serious attempts.

Q: What special efforts did you put in for this 106th rank?

A: First and foremost, it is the guidance and coaching of the staff that helped me.

Secondly, the morning and night study hours and my own planned preparations.

Q: Explain your preparation?

A: Revising of question papers of the tests conducted, analysis and constant drilling in the weak areas. I'm strong in Mathematics and the weak in Physics and Chemistry. Therefore I concentrated more on Physics and Chemistry. I consulted the lecturers at the slightest doubt and comprehended the concept thoroughly. I always got 100% in Mathematics

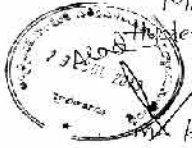

Q: Any suggestions?

A: 1) Supply of computers could help the students to gain more knowledge which this is lacking in IIT college.

2) I suggest the students to study for rank in open computations, without depending on reservations.

last year. We got certificates in that too.

Sir, on the eve of social welfare day in our institution our principal sir had invited the trainee I.P.S. Mr. Abhishek Mahanthi sir and special branch police Romarthy sir. They gave us suggestions how we could reach our goal.
We have been inspired by I.P.S. sir's speech.
Abhishek Mahanthi sir gave us prizes to all the students of our school. We felt very happy on that day.

Sir, I participated in the Zonal science fair held at Chinnachavuk at Koppa district.
on that day I heard your valuable speech.

Sir, you encouraged us to develop our communication skills and also you introduced e-plus club activities to develop our English language. It develops our general knowledge also.

Sir, I was selected for summer leadership camp. But, due to my personal problems, I missed to attend the camp. But I have known the uses of this camp from my friends.

Sir, we hope that you may visit our institution once in your service. I request you to introduce special coaching for 10th class students.

Sir, thank you for introducing youth parliament competition.

Sir, my teachers and my principal sir tell us inspiring words and encourage us very much.

Thanking you sir, for giving this valuable and good

THE NEED FOR SHORT ACTIVITIES IN CLASS ROOM

While preparing main component of your lesson, you still find some extra ingredients to make it into a smooth, integrated unit. You may need, for example:

1. A quick – warm-up for the beginning to get your students into the right mood for learning.
2. An idea for a brief – vocabulary review before starting a new text.
3. A light filler to provide relief after a period of intense effort and concentration.
4. A brief orientation activity to prepare a change of mood or topic.
5. A game or amusing item to round off the lesson with a smile.

Besides, contributing the routine lesson planning, you may find these short activities can be of use in non-routine situations as well. These activities will be helpful to you when you have to fill in for another teacher and need some quick-easily prepared ideas for instant use. The short-activities in classroom help a group of students to know one another or keeping them profitably busy and engaged when you are unexpectedly busy in administrative affairs. Teachers also find short activities which can be used to provide a smooth transition between two major parts of a lesson and to supplement a course book in general.

The process of each activity should follow the guidelines mentioned as under.

- a) The present teaching procedure which we consider are of genuine learning value for the students. But the short activities in our lesson design would be mere time-fillers or that keep students occupied during something profitless. Even in brief, enjoyable activities the students can continue to learn, increase knowledge and improve thinking.

- b) In most cases, activity are suitable for a variety of levels, from elementary to advanced. The teachers, probably the best judge of the appropriacy of an activity for your students.
- c) Timing: The activities you wish to develop in a longer lesson component should not be more than five minutes of lesson time.
- d) Preparation: The activities demand minimum preparation before it is actually conducted. Usually all you have to do is leaf through the course book and decide which idea you want to use as an activity. List out and procure the material like worksheets, pencil, crayons, colour pieces of chalk, charts, fevicol, gum tapes, sheets of rough paper etc., before the activity is conducted during the development of lesson.
- e) Integrating the activities into the lesson: Try to link each short activity with what has gone before, or what is coming after, in topic is worth making your lesson explicit.

I hope you enjoy in designing activities in classroom teaching to suit different levels of abilities of learners.

New School for Boys @ Chintalapudi

In accordance with the G.O. Rt. No.105, Planning (XVIII) Department, dated 21-01-2012, a new school for boys had been sanctioned at Kanepada village of Chintalapudimandal. The Minister for Social Welfare, Sri. Pithani Satyanarayana and Secretary, Dr.R.S. Praveen Kumar, IPS have declared it open on 2nd July 2013. Five acres of land has been located, and until the construction takes place, this newly opened school will function in a private structure.

Accommodation for SWR students (Palakonda)

At last, the long-dreamt new complex for the pupils of Ungarad metta Social Welfare Residential School has been inaugurated by Sri. Kondru Muralimohan, Minister for Health on 24th June, 2013 in the midst of other dignitaries. The Minister, in his speech, stressed on the importance of English language and Career counseling. He also felicitated three of the previous year pupils who secured highest marks in SSC '13. He had praised the novel steps that the APSWREI Society has embarked on since a year, and especially the introduction of English as the medium of instruction. He reminded the students that they should set their targets and work for success to elevate their lives by making use of all these facilities given free by the government.

Happy Birthday sir...

Incidentally, the 15th August happened to be the birthday of our navigator, Sri. J. Raymond Peter, IAS. Our Swaeroes surrounded him to greet and wish him on the occasion at the Parade Grounds. How fortunate he is to have his birth coincide with the Indian Independence! We wish you a

Happy Birthday And Many More Returns Of The Day

You're a unique person, with lovable qualities. A rarity, indeed! You always offer us practical advice. We also enjoy your quips and humourous chats. We value your opinions and advice immensely. You display good deeds in public with humility which some think it to be stubbornness. But for us, it is wisdom, undoubtedly an asset to the APSWRE Society.

Eventually, we acknowledge that you are the secret behind our success, ever supporting us from behind the screen.

May the Almighty endow you with sound health, and long life.

FOLLOW THE LEADER

Mr. Kadigalla Bhasker
(Alumnus of Ibrahimpatnam)

A Swaero, is a blooming and active politician now. He was a student activist at college. He now plays a vital role as State General Secretary and All India Joint Secretary of Democratic Youth Federation of India (DYFI). He also had participated in the 'World Federation of Democratic Youth' in South Africa and China.

Let's listen to him as "Follow the Leader" of this month.

Could you tell something about your nativity and parentage?

I'm Bhasker, born of Mrs.Jangamma and Mr.Pentiah, on 10th June, 1981 at Kollapadakkal village, Maheswararammandal, Rangareddi dist.

What about your primary education, before you joined S.W.School?

First to fourth standards, I spent at the primary school of my own village. I had then joined the Social Welfare residential hostel for 5th class, at Nedunoor village, Kandukurmandal, Rangareddi dist.

How about your journey in our residential school.....?

Yes, I took admission in APSWR School, Ibrahimpatnam, Rangareddidist, and studied from 6th to 10th classes. I was the school topper in SSC with 484 marks. I played leader roles, participated in quiz competitions, science exhibitions, painting, etc. Reading was my avid habit through which I have developed logical thinking.

Did you play any leader role at high school?

Of course. I was appointed as 'sick leader' in 8th class; as 'mess leader' in 9th class; and as 'school pupils leader' in 10th class. I used question a lot with high confidence.

Where did you go after SSC?

I was interested in 'Automobile Engineering'. So I joined Govt. polytechnic college, Zahirabad for 1st year 1997, and SGM Govt. polytechnic college, Vanasthalipuram for 2nd and 3rd year (1998-2000) and took a Diploma.

How did you happen to become student leader? How has it taken father shape?

It had come my way. I never made an effort for it. Dr. Ambedkar, Bhagath Singh, and the Darwin theory inspired me a lot.

It seems you have been abroad? How and why?

I had been to South Africa and to China to attend the 'World Youth Festival'. I was selected to represent 'Democratic Youth Festival of India'(DYFI) there. I spoke on various issues. For instance, Literacy, Women Empowerment, Caste & race discrimination in India, employment, sports, etc. I visited the house of Mandela too. I also met the PM of China and interacted with him.

What's your opinion about APSWR Schools now?

Studying in S.W. schools is a great opportunity. For me, S.W. school was the turning point in my life. Had I not studied there, I would have been roaming the streets, I'm sure!!! It has given me great strength and exposure. It has the best of teachers, who ever encouraged us and helped us to grow. Though there weren't many facilities those days, I continued. I'm proud and surprised too for having studied in a SW res. School. Life was a struggle to me but challenging too. I owe my gratitude to the APSWREIS certainly.

What are your future plans?

I wanted to become a scientist. But the course of life had taken a different shape. Now, I want to serve the society, especially the poor with simplicity and honesty. I want to be called a public servant in politics.

Are you married? Can you tell us something about your family?

S, I'm married to Sudha who has no parents. She studied only till 7th when I married her. But today she is a graduate, and doing TTC.

Finally, have you something to tell our current students?

I have lot to tell them. Studying in SWR schools is a golden opportunity which many don't get. The Society has the best of teachers. It's English media too now. Study honestly and don't think of agitating for foolish reasons. Move ahead with a goal in mind. The SWR schools have now improved enormously in molding the students with numerous activities. I wish them all good future, bye.

Rays of Hope

The parents feel proud to educate their daughters in SWR School, Nellimarla. They find the SWRS as the ray of hope for their children to reach the expected goal. Their opinion is that SWR School consistently remain as rays of hope for the progress of their children. S.Leelarani & Lavanya, the daughters of a rickshaw puller hope to uplift their family soon.

Very glad to meet you, parents. Tell us about yourselves.

Namaste Sir, I'm Savarapu Prasad. This is my wife Shantamma. We're from Sitanagaram Village, Vizayanagaram dist. I'm a rikshaw puller. We've two daughters. My elder daughter S. Leela Rani is an alumna of this school. This is my second daughter S. Lavanya studying IX class in S.W.R.S. Nellimarla.

What's your opinion about them?

They are my future rays of hope. They are confident and console me in misery.

What motivated you to admit your child in this SWR School?

The education provided here to my elder daughter who pursued her higher education upto M.Sc., B.Ed, motivated us to admit our second daughter too in this school.

What change have you observed in your child after admitting here?

She was rather timid and shy but now she is outspoken and self-confident. They make us proud. In fact, they guide us in certain matters of life. They have become more civil.

What activities are conducted in your school?

Of late, so many activities like E-plus club, Science club, Games & Sports, Reading clubs, Youth parliament etc, have been conducted. I took active participation in youth parliament. I attended Voice for Girls camp in Rudravaram.

What are the facilities provided here?

Experienced faculty, Motherly concern, Nutritious food, cosmetics, career guidance & counselling, spacious play ground apart from amenities. are amply provided.

Lavanya, what is your opinion on P5, B13 Resolutions & the Code of Conduct?

They reveal us moral values. They act as stepping stones to lead a successful life.

Who is the source of inspiration to you Lavanya?

My elder sister, S. Leela Rani, M.Sc., B.Ed., who studied here, is the source of inspiration to me.

Any suggestions from your side?

The students should be encouraged to speak in English. I attended 'Voice for Girls' camp in Rudravaram. Opportunities of this type may be given to more students. I wish more & more no. of students to make use of the opportunities provided by our Society, free of cost for our utmost benefit.

What is your reaction, when you are asked to avoid guides and question banks?

Initially, I found it difficult to cope with. Now, I realize that it would develop independent thinking and find solutions to the problems and be self-reliant.

PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

- A man with one watch knows what time it is, a man with two watches is never quite sure.
- Don't look where you fall, but where you slipped. Look at life through the wind- shield, not the rear view mirror.
- Nothing brings you peace but yourself
- People may doubt what you say, but they will believe what you do.
- Be nice to people on your way up, because you'll need them on your way down.
- Time you enjoyed wasting was not wasted.
- Never explain, your friends do not need it and your enemies will not believe it.
- While seeking revenge dig two graves, one for yourself.
- Courage is not lack of fear, but the ability to act while facing fear.
- The best way to protect your future is to create it.
- Everything happens for a reason.
- What's different in you makes you beautiful.
- Happiness has one advantage over wealth, no one can borrow it.
- Follow all this to be a successful person in this world.

He came, he saw, he conquered

Dr R S Praveen Kumar, IPS, Secretary of APSWREI Society, is 'an officer of justice' and not without reason

Dr Praveen Kumar greeting APSW school students

What surprised me on my first encounter with him was his 'agility of mind'... a character most memorable! I discovered in him a unique personality, as he looked dignified, righteous and selfless. This is my truthful tribute to honour him on the event of his elevation as Inspector General and on completion of a year's successful journey in the APSWREI Society as Secretary.

Whatever it is, today he reigns as the Secretary of a vast Social Welfare Residential Education Society, an organisation for rural downtrodden children. He takes care of 5,000 teachers and 1,70,000 pupils in every aspect. He is ready to resolve any issue dynamically. He doesn't stick to the chair, rather is accessible to resolve any issue for the benefit of the students. He doesn't care for criticism once he knows he's doing the right. I term him as 'an officer of justice'.

One day, a person happened to meet me and ask, 'Where's English Praveen?' I told him, 'He's in London!' This is an evidence of his inner urge for reform. He emphasises and persuades the pedagogy as well as the pupils to learn English as he foresees the benefits of learning it, not because he has no love for his vernacular. He himself is an eloquent orator, if necessity arises.

Praveen plans elaborately to elicit those creative skills that are inherently concealed in the children. He is aware of the potential abilities of the children. Therefore he drills deep developments with all types of training programmes. Bullets only pierce and don't reappear, you know. He's committed entirely to illuminate and emancipate the world of the poor.

Most children write to him and share their immeasurable love for him. He reads every letter thoroughly and his attachment to them increases abundantly. "Mother is super star, Father is power star, Praveen is my star", writes P Ratna Kumari of Class VIII, Rudravaram. He regulates and sees that all facilities and amenities that entail their comfort at schools are supplied in time. They see in him a 'Nehru' whom they have not seen. Most teachers consider his period as the 'Golden age' of APSWREIS. This perhaps, because he has introduced numerous worthy initiatives, after his advent, and been quite accessible to listen to and resolve most of their problems. It could also be because he respects teachers and intends to chastise pedagogy through remedy, and not by tormenting.

His promotion as IG laid a track to his door. The cops kept visiting and hailing him. He is a person who cheerfully snatches our respect. He's a cool, calm and civilized super cop. One of our school girls describes him thus, 'cops are normally queer, but Praveen is unique'. Sincerity undoubtedly is his merit. This is his first distinction. 'Sincerity', according to Carlyle, 'is the hall-mark of a great man'.

Smiles, greetings, congratulations, bouquets, reigned over him day and night like showers from the cosmos. Indeed, a rare personality!

II. Using Your Text book

Mr. T. Damodara Rao
SWAERO, Principal
Narayana Jr. College, Hyderabad.

- A. Don't expect your Teacher/Lecturer to give you detailed, page by page textbook assignments. While some may do so, many do not. College Lecturers are much more likely to expect you to use your own initiative in making use of the text.
- B. In most cases, it will be most useful for you to at least skim the relevant chapters before each lecture (i.e., CDF-Concepts Definitions & Formulae). You should receive a course outline/syllabus at the beginning of the quarter, which will tell you the subject for each day. You may receive chapter references (or even page references), or you instructor may expect you to be perceptive enough to refer to the Table of Contents.
1. When you first approach a chapter, page through it fairly quickly, noting boldface headings and subheadings, examining figures, illustrations, charts, etc., and thinking about any highlighted vocabulary terms and concepts. Also take note of the pedagogical aids at the end of the chapter--study questions, summary, etc.
 2. When you have finished surveying the chapter, return to the beginning and read in more detail. Remember to concentrate upon understanding. Don't simply read through the words. Any words which you don't understand you should look up. If you own the book and intend to keep it, you may want to write definitions of such words in the margins. You may also find it helpful to make observations and other useful notes in the margins. If you don't intend to keep the book yourself, you should carry out similar activities on a page in your class notebook.
 3. On this first trip through the chapter, you should concentrate upon catching the major subjects and points of the material. Also take note of those things which you don't understand. If the lecture
- on the material doesn't clarify those points, you should ask your Lecturer to explain.
- C. Following coverage of the chapter's material in class, you should go back to the book and read it again. It will probably be helpful to skim through it first, as you did when you first looked at it. The tables and figures should be more readily read in detail. If you are a truly conscientious student, you will outline the chapter and prepare a vocabulary list of the terms which are pertinent.
 - D. At this time you should think seriously about the review and study questions at the end of the chapter. Do your best to answer all of them as if they were a take-home exam.
 - E. You may also want to develop a system of cross referencing symbols to use when comparing your class notes to your notes from the text.
 - F. Remember that your instructor will probably not use the same words which you find in the text book. nothing is more frustrating than to discover that what you hear in class is no more than a rehash of what you read in the book. However, if your Lecturer knows his/her subject, and the author of your text knows his/her subject, the meat of what they say should be the same.
- NOTE: Nobody is infallible. Your Lecturer may make mistakes. Don't expect him or her to be more than human.

A little girl, Geetha lives in a village. She is poor but pretty. She draws pictures excellently. She lost her mother and lives with her father. Geetha and her father work in a rich man's house. The rich man has a daughter, Swetha. Geetha and Swetha are of the same age. The generous rich man thinks of educating Geetha too, as she aspires to study but can't afford. As they grew and reached seventh class, Swetha turns proud, but Geetha remains humble.

Geetha always performs better than Swetha, and is appreciated by her teachers. Swetha develops jealousy, and becomes hostile to Geetha. Swethabelies and misleads her father, making many complaints against Geetha. Swetha's father stops Geetha's education.

Geetha practises drawing, staying at home. It happens to be Swetha's birthday the following month. Geetha sketches a beautiful picture of Swetha's mother and presents it to her on her birthday. Swetha's joy knew no bounds. She gradually realizes her fault in harming Geetha. She apologizes and their friendship revives. Geetha is sent to school again on her recommendation to her father. They now move together. Swetha seeks the help of Geetha in her studies, and improves. In the end, both succeed in the examinations with first classes. They congratulate each other, and remain true friends forever.

SWAEROES MOMENT....

'If we are to teach real peace in this world, we shall have to begin with the children'.

-Mahatma Gandhi

Dear swaeroes,

I swear, it was swaeroes' moment. The dress, the beat, the step, the dance, and everything was dominated by us on 67th Indian Independence Day celebrated at the Parade Grounds, Secunderabad. Thousands of patriotic audience including our CM were left jaw-dropped at our awesome performance on that day.

Sixty six swaeroes in all, representing each district of the state, taking part in the 'Parade', displayed it so marvelously before the gathering that they were adjudged as the 'Best Unarmed Contingent' (of the twelve participating contingents) to seize the trophy. It was an admirable feat! The trophy was bestowed by the Chief Minister himself to Master Srihari, a student of Ibrahimpatnamschool, who lead the march-past.

Similarly about 600 swaeroes (boys and girls) took part in 'Bharateeyam'. Bharateeyam is a dance in colorful attire in the open field. The theme of Bharateeyam this year is "WORLD PEACE". This panoramic scene presented by our swaeroes was the cynosure of the day.

It was a magnificent show. Indeed, a feast to the eyes!

The contingent was trained by the 'Sports Officer', Mr. S K Mannan, Band Master, Mr. Prasad, and other Physical Education teachers of our Society. The Bharateeyam was the effort of Mrs. Suhasini Paul, Principal of Mahendra hills Magnet School and her energetic team.

It was also a special occasion for two different reasons. Firstly, I had received Indian Police Medal from the Chief Minister for the meritorious service for 17 long years. Funnily, many swaeroes couldn't recognize me at the first glance, as I was in ceremonial khaki uniform. Secondly, our beloved Principal Secretary, Sri. Raymond Peter celebrated his birthday in the parade ground in the company of the serene swaeroes. While our contingent gifted him with its success, skies opened up to shower their blessings upon him in the form of drizzle.

Our swaeroes have proved to the world our capabilities. You have the potential to impress with your performance in every aspect. You are no less than others. Come what may, you must never go back in this journey.

Go Swaeroes ...Go Cosmos....Go and conquer the Universe.

Dr. R.S. Praveen Kumar, I.P.S.
Secretary, APSWREIS,

SWAEROES... the heroes.

We are happy.
